The West Coast Leader in Automation

President's Corner

Steve Deas, President

EandM was founded in 1955 and has been the Automation leader on the west coast for many years.

As a family-owned company, we represent the best automation companies in the world and when you buy from EandM, you also get the best support in the world.

Our training classes, workshops, and FREE tech support services are all located on the west coast. Nothing is off-shored. Nothing is forwarded to others. No waiting, no voice mail, no communication confusion - accurate answers now is our commitment to you.

We have huge stock and great prices. When you place a stock order with us today, you will receive it within two days via UPS. We have sales offices and training centers in Irvine, Portland and Seattle and we look forward to hearing from you soon.

What We Offer

Training

We have delivered certified training for over 20 years! We have two full-time trainers and training centers in Irvine, Portland and Seattle. Our multi-day courses are offered in-person or within a virtual remote setting. Custom training classes are also available.

Workshops

Everyone is so stretched these days that we don't have time to learn new solutions to intractable problems. Our goal in workshops is to deliver hands-on solutions to problems we see in automation today. And we do it in a half-day for free!
